

Today's Quotation
Let others seek what is safe.
Safe is this worst of fortune; for the fear of any worse event is taken away.

—Ovid

If you aren't the first man up with a dog story a friend beats
you to it.

Basil Edwards says something woke up his pointer Buz the other night, and Buz kept sounding off until Basil put on a robe and went out in the summer night to investigate.

Buz had the garage on the point.
Basil put his light on the garage
— and in the back end was a hard-
shell possum... armadillo, that is.
The armadillo didn't appreciate Buz calling up reinforcements, and scurried around for an escape port.
Basil looked for a club, and then saw an empty nail-keg — and he thought, Why not capture him alive?

The man and the nail-keg stole up on the armadillo and the garage; there was a brief rush for the back end — and suddenly Basil found himself alone with an empty nail-keg. Even Buz had quit barking. It appears there was an unforeseen hole in the back end of the garage that just fitted the armadillo, and he had left Ward
Two behind.

Buz isn't talking, but if he were he'd be saying, it's just like a man
to let the game get away.

You don't have to own an extremely keen ear to detect the rising note of controversy between the Army's political commanders here in Washington and its actual field commanders in Korea.

There was, of course, the head-on collision between General Douglas MacArthur and President Harry S.
Truman, a policy dispute which Truman "settled" by firing Mac-Arthur out of his Far Eastern command post.

But we have more of the same this very week. The Pentagon is investigating certain threats General Mark Clark, new Far Eastern commander after General Ridgway, is supposed to have made against our Red enemies.

And still another example of how the Pentagon and the White House don't like soldiers who aren't
as quiet as a mouse is the case of Maj. Gen. Daniel T. Huddelson.

He gave out a pessimistic interview after his return from Korea
for honorable discharge, and the Pentagon has asked Sixth Army headquarters in San Francisco to investigate Huddelson and "provide full details of what he said."

MacArthur... Clark... and Huddelson, all first-class fighting men, all highly vocal, and all drawing official frowns from Washington, D. C.

Well, you can't win a war without fighting-men, and American fighting-men don't give up their ancient right to talk just because they're in the army.

Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr.,
criticized Gen. Huddelson for giving a poor report on our prospects
in Korea, but the General's retort
to the Secretary was a classic.
Said Huddelson:

"Secretary Pace is a fine gentleman, and as Secretary undoubtedly has access to information not available to a poor old broken-down
commander just back from Korea.
I was speaking only from personal experience."

Maybe the General shouldn't have said it — but who among us is going to think of propriety when there's a first-hand report from the fighting front. You'll continue to have independent public reports
just as long as this is a republic,
and the Pentagon and White House had better get used to the idea.

U. S. Clings to New Ground in Korean Fight

Seoul, Korea, June 12 (UP) — Bayonet-wielding Allied riflemen, supported by tanks on the ground
and fighter-bombers in the air,
backed two wedges into Communist lines and still held their newly-won ground tonight.

The Allies struck on the flanks
of the old "iron triangle," the Red buildup area on the central front where Chinese in nightly attacks have been putting increasing pressure on United Nations lines.

The triangle is formed roughly by Pyongyang, Choryon and Kumhwa. Heaviest Allied assault was along its western edge where the Reds have been trying to regain ground the Allies won earlier in heavier fighting.

On the eastern leg of the triangle,
another tank-infantry team
battered its way over two strongly dug-in Communist outer defense lines.

The tank-infantry teams kicked off the attack at daylight today
and were still hammering Red positions at nightfall.

A third armor-tipped raiding party battled Communists east of Kumsong from 4:30 a. m. until 1:30 p. m.

Other Allied troops fought to defend two hill positions commanding
excellent views of both Communist and Allied front lines. The Reds have lost hundreds of men in attempts to win them back
since they were taken by the Allies on Saturday.

Southeast of Kumsong, Allied infantrymen with recoilless rifles
and flame throwers almost wiped out a Chinese platoon. The U. S.
Army said "virtually all the Chinese defenders were casualties."

Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers gave the raiders powerful support
with napalm, rocket and machine gun attacks against Red ground troops.

Allied tanks on the Western front
struck back at Chinese Communists who hit their positions Wednesday
with two unusually strong probing attacks.

how the Pentagon and the White House don't like soldiers who aren't

400 Anti-Communists Break Away-From Prison Leaders; Missing Comrades Sought

Hope Doctor Says Penicillin Used in Anemia Cases

Little Rock, June 12 (AP) — Penicillin can be used successfully for the treatment of anemia cases
when conventional methods of treatment fail, Dr. Roscoe C.
Lewis told delegates to the 39th
annual convention of the Arkansas
Medical Dental and Pharmaceutical Association yesterday.

"Taken in small oral doses, penicillin depresses the protein-splitting bacteria in the intestines which attack the bone marrow, thus cutting down the production of red blood cells in the body," he said.

The association's convention will close tomorrow.

'Shoot' Order Extended by Russians

Berlin, June 12 (AP) — The Soviet Zone government decreed today an extension of its shoot-to-kill security measures to include the border around Berlin as well as the frontier with West Germany.

An order signed by Communist Boss Walter Ulbricht deputy prime minister, directed the state security police to "extend generally"
the measures begun at first on the interzonal frontier to "hinder the entrance of diversions, spies and terrorists in the territory of the German Democratic republic."

It provided sentences at least two years in jail for violators "unless they are not liable for higher punishment under other regulations." The death penalty is already provided for major violators
of a catch-all Communist law "for protection of peace."

The order came as the Western High Commission met in this blockade-threatened city for a discussion of the Communist squeeze.

The commission's visit here from Bohn was a gesture of Allied support for the troubled West Berliners, who have lived through one Russian blockade and are afraid
the Russians may be blotting another.

The West German government did its reassuring bit, sending its finance minister, Fritz Schaeffer, here today to discuss plans for federal economic aid to West Berlin's endangered industries.

The Communists, meanwhile,
whipped up a public school campaign of hate and rearmament
against the West in East Germany.

Today is "teachers' day" in East Germany. At meetings throughout the Russian-occupied, Communist-ruled zone, teachers were exhorted to "increase the defense readiness of our youth and rear them in irreconcilable hatred of the imperialist war-kindlers."

The schools will be called upon to furnish thousands of young recruits for the 375,000-man army
which East Germany is preparing.
Plans for requiring rifle training in all high schools already have been indicated.

The British commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. C. F. Coleman, protested to the Russians today
against the kidnapping of three West Berliners from the British sector last Tuesday.

The victims, two newspapermen
and an innkeeper, are still held by the Communists.

Coleman's protest said they were
"on the edge of the British sector" when a Russian soldier and East German police seized them at gunpoint.

Rev. Keeley to Address AME Group

Rev. Virgil D. Keeley, pastor of the First Methodist Church,
will deliver the principal address at 11 a. m. Friday at the Vacation Bible School of Bethel AME Church.

Hope Youths Named to High Offices

Local envoys to state conventions have been named officers
at the meetings.

Miss Jan Moses, delegate to Girls' State was named Circuit
Clerk in the Caraway county election. The meeting is at Little Rock.

At Fort Smith, the Children's division of the UDC closed its 2-day
session with election of officers.
Named corresponding secretary was David Griffin of Hope.

McMATH SPEAKS

Little Rock, June 12 (UP) —
Gov. Sid McMath scheduled three speeches in Arkansas today. He spoke at Cotton Plant this morning, and planned to go to Augusta and England later in the day.

Tomorrow, he plans to speak before the state convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers in Hot Springs. He has no engagements scheduled for the remainder of the week.

Koje Island, Korea, June 12 (AP) —
U. S. troops hunted today for missing comrades of 399 frightened anti-Communist prisoners of war who broke away from 4,800 marching Reds.

The breakaway came during an otherwise orderly evacuation of the fourth trouble-ridden POW enclosure at this United Nations prison camp.

The anti-Red POWs said the passing prisoners had been hauled before Communist kangaroo courts before today's transfer. They didn't report the number.

Death at the hands of their degraded leaders was the fate of 16
POWs missing from an enclosure emptied Wednesday.

The camp commander, Brig.
Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, is expected to order evacuation of a fifth compound, No. 66, tomorrow.
Some of the 2,700 ugly-tempered North Korean officers and 650 noncoms there are reported fashioning
knives and spears.

Boatner met today with their leaders, some of whom were shown the smoldering wreckage of Compound 66, the first to be emptied.
Thirty-nine prisoners died and at least 150 were injured there in a Tuesday battle with U. S. paratroopers. The 39th death was reported today. Many of the 39 were separated to death by fellow Reds.

Compound 66 is guarded by one company of the King's Shorpsheir Light Infantry of Britain, and one company of the Royal Canadian Regiment. However, indications were that the U. S. 38th Regiment would supervise the evacuation.

The remains of 16 savagely killed prisoners were dug up in the third emptied compound, No. 77. But so far soldiers found no bodies in the fourth, No. 95. Unlike 77 there were no homemade weapons or escape tunnels.

Sweltering Heat Hangs Over State

By The Associated Press
Newport and Morrilton were the hottest spots in Arkansas for the second — straight day Wednesday
as the soaring thermometer reached a sweltering 98 and 97, respectively.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock didn't offer much encouragement for a break in the roasting, humid weather. However, showers are forecast for Northern Arkansas Friday but the rest of the state will find little change in temperature today or Friday.

Fayetteville, in northwestern Arkansas, was the coolest spot in the state yesterday with an 88.

Elsewhere in Arkansas it was 90
at Arkadelphia, Batesville and El-lettsville; 95 at Ozark and Phil-pine; 94 in Pine Bluff and Darda-nelle; 93 at Little Rock and Ft.
Smith; 92 at El Dorado and 91 in Texarkana.

The weatherman said the temperature would reach 94 in central Arkansas today Thursday.

anyway? If you do, you have to carry it home, clean it — a messy
job — and slow it in the refrigerator, where it smells up the rest of the food. If you hook a record size fish, the taxidermist charges you $42.50 to stuff it. You hang it on the wall then, where it catches dust until the day it falls off and conks one of your children on the head.

The entrance of women into fishing has changed it from an individual manly sport into a family industry. Papa may not care a hang whether he catches what is called a piscatorial prize, but mama does. She didn't go all that distance for nothing. She wants to bring something home.

She goes about the task as grimly as if her husband was a bachelor again, hidden beneath the surface and trying to evade her lure.

"That is why I believe more and more wives like to go fishing," one veteran told me. "Every time they haul up a wet, dripping fish it gives them the same thrill they got
when they first snared their man.
It's eerie, I tell you."

This same old rascal has a theory also why women often turn out to better anglers than their husbands.

A woman drops in her line and the fish swims up, looks at it and sneers," he said. "Then he looks up through the water and sees starling down at him some frizzle-haired monster overlooming a pair of blue jeans. She is wearing dark goggles and her nose is covered with lumps of sunburn cream.

"Ho, ho, ho, this is something the other fish ought to see. He opens his mouth and turns his head to call his buddies — and accidentally
the hook swings into his mouth."

"I suppose a million fish are caught this way."

Who really wants to catch a fish are caught this way.

South Koreans Ban American Broadcast

Pusan, Korea June 12 (AP) — The South Korean government has banned Voice of America broadcast over the 10-station government network, accusing it of "bitterly anti-government" and "obviously insulting" remarks.

The Voice has included in its three daily broadcasts editorial excerpts from many U. S. and other foreign newspapers attacking President Syngman Rhee and scoring recent political developments here.

The U. S. State Department broadcasting agency has been using the South Korean government network for two years as a courtesy and not on a contract, said Dr.
Charles Ryce, director of the government's office of public information.

"However, much we may question the tests and judgment of the persons responsible for such broadcasts," Ryce told newsmen, "we do not dispute the airing of such opinions under other auspices."

"But in this case the auspices were the ROK Republic of Korea government radio itself — used to carry bitterly anti-government
criticism, obviously insulting."

"I am aware that this can still be done by the Voice of America
from abroad and brought into Korea, but I am determined that the Korean government station will not be used to tear down its own sovereign state."

He said that for the government
to continue carrying foreign criticism on its own radio would be
"like lending a man a pistol to shoot you."

Ryce said it pained him "for any agency of the great United States government, our gallant and sincere friend in time of adversity,
to be a party to smearing a sovereign ally."

A U. S. embassy official confirmed that the Voice broadcasts were suspended last night. He said no protest was planned here; that if any were made it would have to come from Washington.

Ryce said use of the government network would be restored to the Voice "at once" if the Korean government is assured that the agency
would not use the facilities "improperly."

Taft Sill Holds State GOP Votes

Little Rock, June 12 (AP) — A poll of the 11-member Arkansas Republican delegation to the National convention revealed today that Sen.
Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) still has seven delegates pledged to him.

Three of the remaining delegates are for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the GOP presidential nomination. The other is not committed.

There had been reports that he had gained delegate strength in Arkansas following his speech in Abilene, Kas.

House Group Rejects Truman Bid for Power to Take Over Mills

Ike Says He Would Use the T H Law

New York, June 12 — (UP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that if he were president he probably would invoke the Taft-Hartley law in the steel dispute.

"From what I know, if I had to do it, I would have invoked the law," he said. "I would have done everything possible to put off the strike another 30 days."

The retired general made the statement in talking with New Jersey Republicans whose support he sought for the GOP presidential nomination.

The group of about 75 met with Eisenhower shortly after a similar session with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, his principal rival for the nomination.

In discussing the steel dispute,
during a question and answer
period, Eisenhower stressed that he has been out of the country, and is not completely familiar with all the laws which apply to labor-
management strife and the facts
behind the steel issue.

But, he said, steel is vital to the buildup of Allied strength and the troops in Korea and he would have done everything in his power to prevent a stoppage of production.

The New Jersey group asked Eisenhower many questions on domestic and foreign affairs during their hour-long meeting.

His observations included:
Korea — he had "no definite answer" on how it could be settled quickly but we should build up the Korean troops to the point where they could hold any aggression
until the disposable forces of the United States could be brought into action.

Yalta and Potsdam — "I participated in no political decisions during the war — I did voluntarily

posed it before he made his last attack in World War II and "I get back inside the area picked by politicians as the place we should be."

Thompson, Sparks to Go to Nat'l Kiwanis Meet

Officers of the Kiwanis Club of Hope today announced the names of delegates who will represent the club at the 37th annual convention of Kiwanis International, June 15-19, at Seattle, Wash.

They are Mitchell Sparks and Emory Thompson. President Jack Lowie said all representatives of the Hope Kiwanis club will also attend the social highlight of the five-day convention, the Presidents
Reception and Ball on Tuesday evening.

Kiwanians from the Hope club
will convene with fellow Kiwanians
from every state in the Union, Canadian provinces, and the territories of Alaska, Hawaii, and the Yukon. The convention is expected to be one of the largest in the history of the international community service organization.

Council to Study Legislation

Little Rock, June 12 (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council will meet here tomorrow to consider drafts of proposed legislation to be submitted to the 1952 General Assembly.

Included are proposals to set up a permanent crime and ethics commission in Arkansas, control campaign expenditures and permit
wire tapping to allow officers to determine if news services are being used to transmit racing information.

Paroled Negro Back in Custody

North Little Rock, June 12 (AP) —
A two-time convicted Negro mur-derer, who was paroled in 1950, today was back in the custody of State Parole Officers.

Dave Boyd of North Little Rock pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in Municipal Court today, for the shooting of Robert Hamilton, North Little Rock Negro, on May 2.

The State Parole Officer
said Boyd was paroled in 1950
after serving a 10-year term for murder. He was arrested again
last year for assault with a deadly weapon.

Boyd was held in the county jail today. He will be arraigned in Municipal Court tomorrow.

Station which ended a station here yesterday, new set of tax regulations would have 100 butane gas revenue departments to collect the tax on gas used in the state. Dealers would be permitted to collect the tax on gas used in the state. The money collected would be used to pay for the state's share of the federal highway tax.

Henry of Booneville, president of the Arkansas Dealers Association, said the new tax would be collected by the state.

Twilight War in Korea Has Cost Many American Lives as 'Truce' Talks Continue

(Editors: The Korean war is nearing its second anniversary—June 25. The armistice conference is in its 12th month. The "twilight war" during the armistice talks has cost many American lives, even more Communist lives. In this dispatch, a United Press correspondent who has covered the war since its inception strikes the balance sheet of gains and losses while peace talks—FIGHTING—go on.

By RUTHERFORD POATS
Tokyo—June 12 (UP)—We're

now in the 12th month of trying to reach a truce with the Reds in Korea.

And the 12th month, like the first, is being marked off in blood.

The Korean war will be two years old June 25. The peace conference reaches its first anniversary July 19. While United Nations and Communist delegates wrangle and dicker their way toward an armistice, a "twilight war" continues to take its toll.

The conference table, first at Kaesong, now at Panmunjom, is the neutral meeting place of U. N. and Red officials. In the sky over North Korea and along the 155-mile "frozen battle line," there is no neutrality and shooting as only slackened, not stopped, while the truce talks start, stop and start again.

Two days before the first anniversary of the day 80,000 North Korean troops invaded South Korea, Soviet U. N. Delegate Jacob Malik called for a cease-fire on the 30th parallel. His statement, indicating Communist willingness to talk peace, led to the first truce meeting at Kaesong July 10. On July 12 the talks were stalled for the first time.

Interruptions came one after another through August and September—and fighting went on. U. N. troops pushed their lines deeper into North Korea; they took "Heartbreak Ridge" in 37 days of agonizing struggle; they captured "Bayonet Ridge."

On Nov. 22, at Panmunjom, the truce delegates agreed that the present battle line would be the cease-fire line if other armistice issues were settled within a month. Faint fighting almost ceased.

Since then, the "war that's not a war" has gone on, mostly in patrol actions on the ground and in savage aerial battles.

The "truce toll" is not light: American dead and wounded since truce talks began—30,000. American dead and wounded since the battle line was frozen—10,000.

Communist casualties since the start of talks: 300,000.

Communist losses since the line was frozen: 125,000.

Those are the best available figures on the cost of the "twilight war."

The battle front hasn't changed since Nov. 22. Between the July 10 start of the truce talks and the "freezing" of the line, all changes were to the advantage of U. N. forces.

What the "twilight war" has brought is conference table agreement on all but one issue: How many prisoners are to be repatriated. That point is the block to the ending of the war.

The armistice talks have brought

Rhee Backers Would Dissolve Assembly

Pusan, Korea, June 12 (AP)—More than 10,000 supporters of President Rhee gathered in Pusan today and demanded that the Korean National Assembly be dissolved.

By banners, pamphlets and resolutions, the Rhee partisans denounced the Assembly as "corrupt and traitorous" and for "dependence on foreign influence."

The crowd was orderly and there was no violence.

Meanwhile, representatives of warring political factions tried to work out a compromise between Rhee and the Assembly.

These agreements:

The present battle line will be the armistice line.

A post-armistice conference will be held 90 days after an armistice is signed in diverse troops with a view to peaceful settlement of the war "in toto."

Arrangements for handling the return of prisoners, and for supply lines.

The Reds will drop Russia from their list of neutral nations to supply the armistice—if the Allies agree to permit the Reds to build airfields in North Korea during the armistice. And the Allies agree to do that—if the Reds would drop their demand for the forcible repatriation of Allied-held prisoners of war.

Then the issue has rested since May 7, when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said the question of peace of war was up to the Reds.

A solution to the prisoner repatriation deadlock is the key to full agreement. The Reds say they will "never" accept the voluntary repatriation clause. The Allies declare they will never yield.

Only a major, face-saving compromise will end the deadlock.

High authorities are not optimistic about it. Neither side is despondently pressed by military necessity or home-front demands to get a "truce" at any price.

The price of continued talking is low—cheaper than a propaganda defeat at the conference table, cheaper than the light toll of full-scale war if the talks are broken completely.

So the "twilight war" keeps going—men keep dying—and the armistice talks go on, the only hope for peace in Korea.

Veto Power Tested in South Africa

Capetown, South Africa, June 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan's new law giving South Africa's Parliament veto power over the cabinet's highest court faced its first real challenge today.

In a suit filed yesterday in the country's Supreme Court four Cape Colony members of mixed race in Cape Province claimed the act violated the South African constitution by permitting the government to take away their voting rights.

The opposition United Party, which has been fighting the Malan government's attempts to tighten racial segregation, is paying for the suit.

The move coincided with the announcement that a non-violent campaign of civil disobedience against race segregation regulations would start June 26.

D. J. S. Moroka, president of the non-white African National Congress, said a thousand native volunteers would ignore rules segregating them from white persons on trains, buses and in public places, and requiring colored persons to carry identification passes.

MORE CASUALTIES

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 60 additional casualties of the Korean War.

The list included 11 killed, 53 wounded, three injured in battle-zone accidents, one missing and one captured by the enemy.

U. S. Soldier Gets Deth Sentence

Nuernberg, Germany, June 12 (AP) — Pvt. Richard A. Hagelberger, 19, was sentenced to death by a U. S. Army court martial today for the carbine slaying of two German civilians last April.

The court found Hagelberger guilty yesterday but recessed until this morning to decide the penalty to be imposed on the tall, dark-haired soldier from Chula Vista, Calif.

The young soldier's buddy, Pvt. John F. Vigault, of Goffs Falls, N. H., had previously been sentenced to death for his part in the slaying on a road near Neustadt of two Germans who gave them a ride after the soldier had spent the evening drinking beer in a tavern.

Vigault admitted in the first trial that he fired the shots from a carbine after the soldiers had decided to steal a car belonging to the Germans. But he contended Hagelberger "egged me on."

The sentence is subject to review by higher military authorities.

DOROTHY DIX
Advertising For Companion

Dear Miss Dix: Five years ago I lost my dear husband and have lived a very lonely life since. I live alone and now my funds are growing smaller so I shall be forced to sell my small cottage. I am desperately lonely, having no near relatives. I'd like to find a middle-aged woman who has the means to share the expenses of my home so that she can help me financially and acquire a pleasant home for herself. I am 67 years old and in good health. How can I go about getting the companion I want?

MRS. MADELINE F.
Answer: There are so many lonely people in your age group that every community should sponsor some movement to get them together. All they ask is companionship; surely churches, civic organizations or allied groups could work on such a project with fine results.

The surest way for you to get an answer to your problem, Madeline, would be to insert a small advertisement in the personal column of this newspaper, having all replies sent to a box number (which the paper will supply) rather than to your home. This will give you a chance to screen the letters you receive, investigate references, and then get in touch with the prospect or prospects, you particularly like.

Have someone you know go over the mail with you in order to double check the responses.

You Should Succeed
Opening your home to a stranger is a project requiring the utmost in careful selection, but since there are so many women seeking just such an arrangement, you should have no difficulty in finding the right person.

You should not have remained in your isolation so long, Madeline. There are so many activities, so many projects open to women with time on their hands that there's no excuse for you to continue your lonely existence. You are probably too shy to make the first move towards breaking into the outside world and, of course, unless people know that you want company, they will not force themselves upon you.

You must get out, let others know you are seeking friends, activity, perhaps even a job, and you'll get them. It may seem at first that everyone you meet is thoroughly equipped with relatives and friends, but you'll soon find many souls as lonesome as yourself. Just as a starter — apply to the Volunteer Service of the Red Cross and ask what you can do to help them. They are usually in perpetual need of seamstresses, clerks and auxiliary hospital help.

Dear Miss Dix: Mine is the same old story. We had to get married and now have two girls aged 2 years and 6 months. I am 27, my husband is 38. He says he wants a divorce to marry someone he knew before our marriage. He promises to help support the children. He says he never did love me. Should I drop out of the picture and give him his freedom? I love him so much it tears my heart to think of someone else married to him.

BARBARA B. H.
Answer: Under the circumstances, you certainly are not guaranteed much happiness by holding onto a man who so obviously does not want to be held. You can count as a piece of luck the fact that he married you in the first place and at least safeguarded your name.

Consult a representative of the Family Service Association of America, who can be located through your telephone directory. If you are forced into a divorce, make sure your legal rights are protected.

Your husband certainly should try to keep his family together. A devoted wife and two fine children should be enough to make him happy. However, he is too old for you to do much changing although he doesn't seem to know what he wants himself. Keep him with you for a while longer anyway, and perhaps he will learn to appreciate you and the babies.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man in my early fifties and love and respect my wife. However, in a moment of foolishness brought on by too much partying at an out-of-town convention I had an affair with another woman. When I returned home, she contacted me and refuses to leave me alone. She threatens to divulge the whole thing to my family unless I continue to see her. She calls me at my place of business, waits around the house for me to come home and makes a general nuisance of herself. What can I do?

A DESPERATE MAN
Answer: I hope you have a understanding wife, for my advice is to tell her the whole story. If the battle is over, once she knows her only weapon and knows there is nothing she can tell your family, continued annoyance be reported to the authorities.

If you continue to see her, you only become more deeply involved. Your hope that she will tire of bothering you is futile; she's enjoying her persecution and will continue it as long as you are co-operative. Confession is your only solution. I hope your family understands and forgives.

Neutral Group May See Koje Prisoners

Washington, June 12 (AP) — A pro- posal to invite neutral military leaders to observe the treatment of Communist prisoners of war on strike-torn Koje Island got a mixed reaction in Congress today.

The suggestion by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) was endorsed by Pres- ident Truman.

Some Democratic senators said it would help offset Communist propaganda about the "mistreat- ment" of Red prisoners. But Rep- ublicans, if not hostile to the idea, expressed skepticism that it would prove effective.

One senator told a reporter he feared it might be taken as an admission of weakness.

President Truman suggested in a letter to Secretary of Defense Louis A. Howe that military men be sent to Koje to see at first hand how Communist prisoners are treated by United Nations forces.

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee and a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, advanced the idea in a call at the White House two days ago.

A visit to Koje Island by high- ranking neutral military observ- ers, Russell suggested, would be a means of refuting "the mass of falsehoods which are being broad- cast to the world by the Commu- nist propaganda machine."

Truman forwarded Russell's memorandum to Lovett with the comment that the proposal had a lot of merit.

"It seems to me," the President wrote, "that it would be well to have Sweden, Switzerland, India, Pakistan and Indonesia to send military men to Korea to take a look at the situation and see what really is happening."

INCORPORATES
Little Rock, June 12 (UP) — The Chick Capital Broadcasters of Rogers filed articles of incorpora- tion today with Secretary of State C. G. Hall.

The firm plans to build and op- erate a radio station in Rogers. In- corporating capital was listed at $300, plus the issuance of 120 shares of stock with a par value of $100 per share.

Incorporators were listed as C. F. Jackson of Rogers, Freda F. Segal of Texarkana, and Edward Codel of New York City.

Bishop Faces Death Penalty in Utah

Tooele, Ut., June 12 (AP) — A tri- ger-happy Arkansas gunman with six murders on his record today faced the death penalty for the pis- tol slaying of two Utah miners.

Tuck Bishop, an escapee from the Arkansas Tucker prison farm, was convicted here last night under the alias of Carl B. Anderson for the April murder of James Dougherty, 43, and Ben Douglas, 34, in a mine bunkhouse near Ophir, Ut.

The District Court jury deliberated four hours before bringing in its verdict.

Judge Albert H. Ellett the sen- tencing date for June 28 in Salt Lake City. Under Utah law, conviction of first degree murder carries an automatic death penalty in the absence of a jury recommen- dation for mercy. Mercy was not recommended for Bishop. And con- demned felons may choose between hanging and a firing squad as their method of execution.

Bishop took the stand yesterday in his own defense and testified that he killed the two miners because they had made sexual attacks on him. He said he fired in self de- fense.

The one-legged Arkansas killer said that Dougherty and Douglas had made "life miserable" for him and had attempted at various times to get in bed with him. This contention was supported by Arlie Fitzwater, another miner who lived in the same bunkhouse.

Bishop said the bunkhouse was dark when he walked into it the night of the shooting. He said he turned on the lights and Douglas tried to hit him in the head with a chair. Bishop said he pulled a gun from his pocket and fired at Douglas just as Dougherty joined in the fight. He said he then shot Dougherty.

forces with facilities to match their increased strength.

The bill is the last regular au- thorization measure for domestic and foreign military expenditures scheduled for this session of Con- gress. The House already has cut the defense budget by more than 10 per cent and the foreign aid bill the defense budget by more than 10 per cent and the foreign aid bill by 12-8 per cent.

The construction measure would approve for the Air Force $2,089,277,000, the Army $385,750,000 for the year beginning July 1.

The measure only authorizes the amounts. Appropriations must be voted separately.

Vinson said in a speech pre- pared for the House that the bill may well be the most important piece of legislation this session.

The reason, he said, is that the military buildup would lose strength without comparable ex- pansion of airfields, military and naval bases and training camps.

A committee report underlined the point by stressing the impor- tance of about $1,300,000,000—nearly half the total— earmarked for American airfields abroad. Most of them are classified as military secrets.

These fields, the report said, are "part of the investment which has been made in our atomic weapons program." It said no purpose will be served "if we develop the best and largest quantity of atomic weapons but fail to provide the Air Force adequate facilities" for basing and servicing bombers and fighters abroad.

The committee eliminated 250 million dollars earmarked as the American share of European air- fields for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It said these pro- jects were necessary but the ap- propriations should be included in foreign aid funds, not in a military bill.

The measure sets aside $844,240,000 for airfield projects in con- tinental United States.

for a credit sale instead of $1,750 for a cash sale. Circuit Court up- held the corporation.

The Supreme Court also received an appeal yesterday from Clifton Jewell, who was convicted of set- ting fire to five Lake Norfolk tour- ist cabins last March 3 to spite his estranged wife. She was not present when the fire occurred.

Jewell, 37, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for arson.

Government, Ship Line Settle Fight

Washington, June 12 (AP) — The government and the R. Stanley Dol- lar interests today settled their 5- year court fight over control of the big Dollar Steamship line.

Terms of the settlement provide: 1. The controlling stock interest in the line claimed by both will be put up at public sale at any price above 14 million dollars cash.

2. The winner on sealed bids will get the 92 per cent block of stock and the government and the dollar interest will divide the proceeds.

3. If the public sale fails to bring a bid of 14 million or more, the stock will be divided equally between the government and the Dollar interest.

In any event, Secretary of Com- merce Sawyer said, the government intends to get out of the line and return it to private operation.

The 92 percent controlling interest is valued at $9 million dollars.

England was conquered by Rome between 43 and 60 A. D.

Another Soldier Guilty of Slaying

Pennsylvania May Decide Nomination

Harrisburg, Pa., June 11 (AP) — Pennsylvania's Gov. John S. Fine, who many Republican leaders say, may be the single most important delegate to the GOP national convention, is today undecided and unimpressed. He is uncommitted as to how he will vote at Chicago next month. Fine says so, and not even his most intimate friends or political associates profess to know where the governor stands. But Fine is confident that a big majority of Pennsylvania's 70 convention votes will be lined up with him when the presidential candidate is nominated.

He also is undecided as to when he will make up his mind on that candidate. When he does, he says, it will be "on issues and not on candidates." He believes that the most important question before the nation is the "tremendous expenditures" of the federal government. "Security and peace depend on the solvency of this country," the governor says.

And the husky, balding former judge is unimpressed by all the last April. Hagelberger, a tall, slim, soldier, heard the verdict without expression.

furor swirling around him. Fine's vote, as a delegate-at-large, is important; much more so is his influence with other Pennsylvania delegates.

These factors in the situation were made apparent in an interview with the Associated Press, in which the governor discussed his views on the campaign issues. He declined to comment on the record concerning candidates or the delegates' position, and would not disclose any new details of his talk last Sunday with Dwight D. Eisenhower, or previous conversations with Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The Pennsylvania delegation's 70 votes are officially and actually uncommitted and uncommitted, although many members have expressed personal preferences. The most recent AP poll shows 29 favoring Eisenhower, 18 backing Taft and 32 undecided or unwilling to state a preference. Backers of both candidates claim a bigger share of the delegation.

The number of delegates Fine could bring to his candidate is the biggest question, but by every available estimate it is a very substantial group. The governor, who is delegation chairman — believes there would be not less than 32, and possibly more.

Fine is confident the party can carry Pennsylvania with either of the major candidates, or with Gen. MacArthur who most definitely remains on the list of possibilities before the governor.

The governor is not impressed by the fact that, with only one

Talks Revived, Reds Warned of Charges

Munsan, Korea, June 11 (AP) — The Korean armistice talks resumed today with the Communists protesting new bloodshed on the Korean peninsula and repeating old accusations that brought about a three-day walkout by the United Nations delegation.

Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. Far East commander, told the top Red commanders he fully approved the walkout which obviously caught the Reds off balance, and brought a stream of protests from them. In a letter delivered to North Korean Gen. Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai, Clark wrote:

"Delegates of the United Nations Command have endured for many days your maliciously false charges based on distortions and half truths presented in plenary sessions only for propaganda purposes. Their patience at all times has been commendable. The manner in which they have conducted negotiations meets with my full approval."

A staff officer handed the letter to the Reds at Panmunjom shortly before the armistice talks resumed. It replied to a written protest from the Red generals two days earlier.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior U. N. truce delegate, said there was no progress today on the true blocking issue of exchange of prisoners.

"We had hoped that they would use the three-day recess to make up their minds to accept our proposal but the session today was just as though we hadn't been away," he added.

At Communist insistence, negotiators will meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Wednesday, EST).

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Red negotiator, opened the 37-minute meeting by protesting Allied action in moving rebellious prisoners of war on Koje Island yesterday. He said:

"According to information already made public, your side slaughtered 31 and wounded 139 of our captured personnel. I am authorized to lodge with your side a serious protest. 'Your slaughter of our captured personnel is absolutely not to be tolerated. Your side will be held fully responsible for the serious consequences of the massacre.'"

Allied authorities said at least 12 of the Reds on Koje were slain by other POWs. Harrison repeated the U. N. position that no prisoner of war will be forced to return to Red rule. The Reds demand all their captured soldiers, regardless. Only 70,000 of 169,000 captured Reds have indicated a willingness to return. The Reds again turned down repeated Allied offers for joint rescuing of all prisoners.

Would Hold Down Defense Dept.

Washington, June 11 (AP) — Sen. Long (D-La.) said today he would like to hold the Defense Department to about half of the three billion dollars sought.

The proposed program includes installations for the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force both in this country and abroad.

The House Armed Services Committee approved the program yesterday after trimming it to about 2.4 billions.

Long is chairman of a special Senate Armed Services subcommittee now delving into the program.

Long said his investigations lead him to believe much of the proposed work could be postponed without harming the military establishment.

Two State Projects in Appropriation

Washington, June 11 (AP) — A bill that would authorize an appropriation of $2,738,318,000 for military construction projects — including two in Arkansas — was approved by the House Armed Services Committee yesterday.

The Arkansas projects were $31,185,000 for the proposed jet bomber base near Little Rock and $18,203,000 for reactivation of the Blytheville base.

FORMER COMEDIAN DIES

Los Angeles, June 11 (AP) — Arthur Deming Miller, 70-year-old comedian who was end man, singer and piano player for the old Dock-stader Minstrel shows; died at his home yesterday. He had been maintenance manager at the estate of actor Harold Lloyd for the last 15 years.

major exception, the party leaders and state officials close to him are favorable to Eisenhower.

Fine will be present Friday when Eisenhower, at his Gettysburg Pa., farm, meets the state delegates and alternates. And Fine will be on hand, too, when the delegations meet with Sen. Taft at a later date.

After those meetings, Fine intends to check with the delegates personally, and some time after that to make known his decision. It will go to the candidates first, because he believes "they have a right to know." But it may not be announced officially and publicly until the delegation caucus at Chicago Sunday night, July 6.

On the issue of economy, which he believes is tied completely to U. S. foreign aid, defense preparations and the domestic program, Fine said in part:

"It is only a guess on how far we can go in aid to other nations. Some people say it isn't a question of what we can afford to do, but what we can afford not to do. I don't subscribe to that."

Crosby, Hope Plan TV Benefit

New York, June 11 (AP) — Crooner Bing Crosby will make his television debut on Saturday, June 21, with comedian Bob Hope in a marathon fund-raising appearance for the American Olympic Committee. The Columbia Broadcasting System announced yesterday that it and the National Broadcasting Company would offer the 14 1-2-hour program on their national networks starting at 10 p. m. (EST).

Buck Passing Is Feature of Steel Strike

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 12 (AP) — While the steel strike goes on the President and Congress play bean-tag. The President tosses the strike problem to Congress. Congress tosses it back.

The President's plea to Congress was: Give me a law that can do something about a strike. So far the reaction seems to be: Stew in your own juice; you already have a law.

The President could use the Taft-Hartley Act, which is supposed to stop a strike for 60 days but it is questionable whether the steelworkers, already on strike, would go back now even if ordered.

But Truman says he doesn't like T-H. He says it's a poor way to solve the problem. Philip Murray doesn't like T-H either. He's president of the striking CIO steelworkers and a political ally of Truman.

So Truman suggests Congress pass a brand new piece of legislation, giving him authority to seize the steel mills just as he did with oil law before the Supreme Court told him last week to give them back.

But Congress, or those members of it who disagree with him or don't like him or don't like labor unions, have him over a bit of a barrel. Since T-H does exist, and hasn't been tried they can tell him to try it before coming to them.

If Truman had played this scene differently in the beginning — by using T-H when a steel strike was first threatened last Jan. 1 — he'd have had Congress over a barrel.

If he had used T-H, of course, there's no telling how badly this might have fractured his friendship with Murray or how many labor votes it might have cost the Democrats.

If he had used T-H back in January to delay the strike 60 days, once that time was up and there was no settlement, the workers could have struck. There was no other law to stop or delay them further.

If that case Truman could have gone to Congress and said: See, T-H didn't work so give me a law that will.

Congress wouldn't have been able to toss anything back at him then. He could have sat by, letting Congress stew in its own juice until it finally gave him authority he wanted.

Instead, he tried everything but.

Three U. S. Officers Are Promoted

Tokyo, June 11 (AP) — Three U. S. major generals in Korea today were promoted to lieutenant generals — the rank called for by their present commands.

They are Glen O. Barcus, commander of the Fifth Air Force; William B. Palmer, commander of the Tenth Corps and Willard D. Wyman, commander of the Ninth Corps.

T-H. He succeeded, first by persuasion and then by illegal seizure of the mills, to delay the strike six months, which was much longer than the 60 days T-H could have delayed it.

If the strike continues much longer and Congress still won't bail him out, Truman probably will have to use T-H to try to get the workers back on the job. And that might not be bad political medicine for Truman.

Visiting Around Arkansas BY JOE MARSH

"KING COTTON"

"Horses"—the gasoline kind, that is—are replacing the mule in Arkansas cotton fields. It seems to me that on most large farms and plantations in Arkansas, the entire process of cotton production is, more and more, being handled mechanically from planting to picking. These mechanical marvels are serving to make the farmer's lot easier and to increase his standard of living through improving the quality and production of his commodity. Farm machinery is making for a better way of life among our rural folks—just as the brewers of America are contributing to the enjoyment and contentment of the American people through production of fine beer and ale. Malt beverages are accepted today by the people of Arkansas and they are offered to the public under the Brewing Industry's Self-Regulation Program which assures maintenance of clean, wholesome, law-abiding conditions for legal sale of these products.

U. S. Favored In
Wimbledon Play

London, June 12 (AP)—The Wigh-man Cup tennis matches get under way at Wimbledon tomorrow with the United States ladies, as usual, ruling the heavy favorites.

The English girls have not won the cup since 1932 and have finished first in only two of 41 individual matches since the end of the war.

In the opener, Wimbledon Champion Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., will meet Mrs. Jean Rinkel, while in the second match 17-year-old Maureen Connolly, the U. S. litter from San Diego, will play
Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith.

Miss Hart will team with Shirley Fry of Akron, O., in the doubles against Mrs. Rinkel and Helen Fletcher.

The wires sizzled with fiery protests from indignant Cub fans they applied so much heat that Commissioner Happy Chandler, heeding the mounting pressure, ruled
"Sauer must start."

When Shotton stuck his head out of the visiting dugout at Comiskey
Park that July afternoon, a juicy boo barrage singled his ears.

From the trend of the early '32
battering, Sauer may wind up with the most votes of any player in either league. At least he will if he has many more days like yesterday.

Sauer Homers
Three Times,
to Lead Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

No one win dare ask Hank Sauer
to sit out the 1932 all-star game.
The big fellow from Chicago stands in Ted Williams' shoes as the leading slugger in all baseball.

Barney Shotton, National League
all-star manager in 1930, got himself in a jam when he suggested that big Hank give way to Dodger
Duke Snider in the starting lineup.

Shotton found himself without a centerfielder in his fan-picked outfield of Enos Slaughter, Ralph Kinner and Sauer. So he decided to teach Sauer.

Dwindling Exports Hit Cotton Mills

By RICHARD FISKE For Sam Dawson

New York, June 12 (AP)—Dwindling exports to far corners of the world mean fewer jobs in the cotton mills of New England and the South.

Exports of American cotton cloth have been holding up fairly well. But the competition is getting keener. International markets are being reduced.

All around the world cotton textiles are being over-produced. One textile man says it's getting to the point where there just aren't enough people to buy the output of so many modern mills.

Some of the smaller under-developed countries have established textile industries, many of them uneconomic.

They chose textiles, with the help of American foreign aid funds, because traditionally it is an industry that supplies lots of jobs.

There is a scarcity of dollars in many of the once-lucrative markets for American cloth. Exchange restrictions and import quotas are cropping up again in textile importing countries.

American cotton manufacturers, many of whom believe the darkest days of their domestic recession are over, now see these international complications as their greatest worry.

Translating exports into terms of jobs leaves this picture: The American cotton textile industry provides about 600,000 jobs when operating at capacity.

Textile men say a normal breakdown to support this capacity operation would be sale of 80 per cent of the production in this country and 10 per cent abroad.

This 10 per cent that is exported, they added, accounts for about 50,000 of the total jobs.

Right now, the cotton textile industry is employing about 391,000 workers and is exporting about

The world over-production that is worrying American manufacturers has become critical for other nations as well. It has caused curtailment and unemployment in England, India, Japan France and Belgium.

Charles C. Hertwig, president of Bibb Manufacturing Company at Macon, Ga., said recently this over-production that extends from Osaka to the Carolinas threatens the home market of American manufacturers as well as the export markets.

W. E. Scripps, Publisher, Succumbs

Detroit, June 12. (UPI)—William E. Scripps, president of the Detroit News, died today at his farm home near Lake Orion, Mich. He was 70.

Suffering from a respiratory illness for a year, his condition grew worse last night and he died early this morning. His wife, their two sons and their daughter were at his side.

Scripps, who also founded radio Station WWJ and WWJ-TV, became president of the News, an independent newspaper, in 1929 on the retirement of the late George G. Booth.

Son of James E. Scripps, who founded the News Aug. 23, 1873, Scripps learned all phases of the publishing business under the hand of his father.

At an early age he took a keen interest in radio, seeing his first demonstration of "wireless" in 1901 which culminated in the establishment of the Detroit News station two decades later.

Born May 6, 1862, Scripps joined the news as a reporter as a young man, learning all the "tricks of the trade" that a father could teach him, and then for 20 years directed its growth as one of the nation's leading newspapers.
